A Very Happy Independence Day!

On the momentous occasion of the India's Independence Day, we are immensely happy to give the Independent Youth a platform to express their vividly fresh views, emotions and ideas! This issue of Tarang is of and by some of India's most brilliant Independent Young Artistes, who also have a strong focus, attitude and viewpoint.

We invite you to enter the worlds and minds of Devika Sajeevan, whose emotional intensity as a dancer, has won her many awards, including opportunities to represent India; Amrutha Rakesh, who brims with talent, knowledge and an urge to use art for social emancipation; and Trisha Chakraborty, who has the ability to create magic on stage, both as a dancer and an actor.

Well, we are also joined by two Ananya Gaurs. You read correctly! An Ananya Gaur from Sri Ganganagar, whose liveliness as a writer, painter and dancer seems dreamlike; and another Ananya Gaur from Ujjain, a Kathak sensation, whose heart beats for popularizing Indian artistic culture globally.

Over to the Independent Young Artistes!

Hope you'll love this Tarang issue.

Stay safe, stay happy,
